BULGARIANS HAMMER AT STAMBOUL'S GATES.

Foreigners at Constantinople Watch Magnificent Artillery Duel.

Main Pasha Reports that He Has Hurlled Back the First Attack, Annihilating Three Batteries and Taking Eight Thousand Prisoners—Thousand Cases of Cholera a Day, With Fifty Per Cent. of Fatalities.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

The great final battle for the possession of Constantinople raged all day Sunday until after dark. The magnificent artillery duel was witnessed from Stamboul by members of the legations. Main Pasha reports that he hurled back today's attack, annihilated three batteries and took 8000 prisoners. One thousand new cases of cholera are reported in and about Constantinople each day, the fatalities being 50 per cent. Scenes of indescribable horror and neglect are reported. Austria and Roumania are mobilizing to march into Serbia and Bulgaria to establish the kingdom of Albania as a buffer against Balkan conditions to reach the Adriatic Sea. Fighting is in progress around Scutari, in which both the Montenegrins and the Bulgarians report victories. The foreign ships in the Bosphorus will today land detachments for the protection of foreigners in Constantinople. Several leading Bulgarians were arrested yesterday for conspiracy against the government.

Rival Beauties Rivals for Throne.

Crown Princess of Roumania.

Two Crown Princesses.

German kingdoms and principalities have been supplying kings for several of the Balkan States ever since these have enjoyed autonomy, but particularly for Greece, Roumania and Bulgaria. The ruler of the new kingdom of Albania is to be crowned by Austria and Roumania is to have either the Crown Prince of Roumania or the Crown Prince of Bulgaria upon the throne, if present plans do not miscarry. The Crown Princess of Roumania, whose picture is second above, is reputed to be the most beautiful princess in all of Europe, excepting, perhaps, the Crown Princess of Bavaria, whose picture is first.

AUSTRIA AND ROUMANIA MAY INVADE BULGARIA.

Rather Than Have Serbia Retain a Seaport on the Adriatic, an Independent Buffer Kingdom Is to Be Created in Albania Which Would Forever Bar the Other Balkan States from the Sea.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE, BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Austria and Roumania are preparing to invade Bulgaria under an agreement with Turkey. The intentions of Austria are said to have been known to the other European powers for the last forty-eight hours. It is understood that both the triple alliance and the triple entente have agreed to keep their hands out of the quarrel. This is considered the best course to avoid a general war and also because the combined action of Austria and Roumania is held to be justified by the harsh terms propounded to the Porte by the Balkan allies.

KINGDOM OF ALBANIA.
 Austria and Roumania, however, will insist on autonomy for Albania, with government under a European Prince with an ultimate view of creating another buffer kingdom in the Balkans to balance Bulgaria and its victorious King. The Crown Prince of Roumania and the Crown Prince of Bavaria are already being considered as candidates for the new throne.

Austria has mobilized three army corps within a day's reach of Belgrade. Roumania has 65,000 troops ready to swoop down on the unprotected cities of Bulgaria, whose troops are occupied with the siege of Adrianople and the assault on the Tchataldja. A telegram to the London Times announces the general assault on Tchataldja forts commenced this morning with a heavy concentration of artillery attack and previous reports of a four days' battle have been officially contradicted.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE CAPITAL.

WESTERNERS ARE SPENDING WINTER IN WASHINGTON.

Military and Naval Officers Are Taking a Prominent Part in Society Affairs—Colorado Relatives of the Wilsons Are Likely to Be Seen Much at the White House.

(BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 17.—[Special Dispatch.]
 Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Branch of San Francisco are spending the winter here as guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Lovett.

Mrs. A. A. Fries has returned from an inspection tour of the Ohio River. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and Miss Barbara Stevens of California, will arrive next week to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fries at the Washington Barracks before going to Congress Hall for the season.

Lieut. Jacob H. Klein, aide on the staff of Rear-Admiral Alfred Reynolds, commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet, will sail for San Francisco November 22, where his marriage with Miss Gladys James of that city will take place December 4 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. L. James.

Accompanying Lieut. Klein will be Lieut. J. D. Little, flag secretary on Admiral Reynolds' staff. He will be best man and Mrs. Cornelius James's sister of the bride will be bridesmaid.

Ensign Stuart Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana W. Brown of West Seattle, will accompany Lieut. Klein to San Francisco to attend the wedding. Miss James is the sister of Mrs. Hartwell McCarty of this city.

The marriage of Miss Georgia Eleanor Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adrian Smith, and Capt. Fredrick D. Winell Kilgore, U.S.M.C., took place this week in Seattle, Wash., in the presence of the family's intimate friends. The bride is a native daughter of Denver, but removed to Seattle with her parents ten years ago. She was educated in this city and later spent a year and a half in travel and study abroad.

Mrs. Helen Woodrow Welles of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Thomas Woodrow are relatives of the next President who are likely to be seen in the White House during the coming administration. Mrs. Welles's father was a brother of Gov. Wilson's mother. The two cousins spent many happy days together while the future President was studying law at the University of Virginia and Mrs. Welles, as Miss Helen Woodrow, was attending school at Staunton. Mrs. Welles's daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Thackwell of Portland, Or., is an intimate friend of her cousin, the Misses Wilson.

Mrs. Thomas Woodrow is the wife of the Assistant District Attorney in Denver. Her husband is a cousin of Gov. Wilson.

EXTIRPATE SERRANOS.

Federals Mow Down Rebel Indians.

Artillery Bombarbs Villages Without Warning to Inhabitants.

Soldiers Drive Gen. Aguilar from His Stronghold in Puebla.

Withdraw Troops from North for Southern Campaign of Extermination.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17.—That the Mexican government is determined to carry out the threat to resume the tactics employed so successfully some months ago by Gen. Robles in the State of Morelos, is indicated by the report of the War Department announcing the total destruction of several small towns and villages in the northern mountains of Oaxaca, where the revolution has been rampant.

Another evidence of the government's intention to use all energy in restoring peace in the south is the announcement by a high official that 3000 soldiers now operating in the north, chiefly in Chihuahua, Coahuila and Durango will be sent against rebels in the States of Mexico, Puebla, Guerrero and Oaxaca. The government is convinced that the situation in the country is now so nearly in hand that smaller forces will be able to restore normal conditions.

MOWED DOWN WITH GUNS.
 Ixtapal and Zia, two of the places destroyed, were the strongholds of the Serrano Indians who have not been subdued by the campaign waged in the vicinity of the State capital after an attempt had been made to capture the city. Convinced that the inhabitants of these towns were in accord with the rebels, orders were issued for their destruction. Without calling on the inhabitants to withdraw, the artillery began its work, ceasing only when the town had been reduced to a mass of ruins.

INDIANS ACTIVE.
 The Indians are active in other directions. Official reports say conditions in the States of Morelos and Mexico have improved, but it is known that the rebels hold important hills near Guernaveca and largely control the rural districts and many of the minor towns in the State of Mexico.

MILITIA WAR PLAN.

National Guard to Be Reorganized.

United States Now Divided Into Twelve Field Divisions.

Department Urges Governors to Help in Creating Fighting Force.

San Francisco Headquarters for Coast and States Adjoining.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—One of the most important moves in recent years to prepare the national militia for use in time of war is proposed in letters addressed by Acting Secretary Oliver to the Governors of all the States and territories inviting their co-operation in the war college plans for the organization of the militia into twelve tactical divisions.

The letters point out that if the militia is to be used as a field force effectively in war time it can be done by this system of divisions, and to insure the proper working of the plan all of the details should be worked out in time of peace.

FIELD ARMIES.
 In the outline of the divisions no place is given to separate companies of infantry, which it is said should be absorbed into regiments or other larger organizations. Field armies should be formed by the grouping of two or more divisions of the militia or by combining one or two divisions of militia with one of regular troops. Regular organizations would form the fourth brigade of any division assigned to a field army, for the reason

WAR FULFILLS ITS DESTINY.

Red Terror of a Thousand Years Dissipated.

Jihad Is Nothing but a Glibbing Ghost.

Sword of Saladin Is Broken at Last.

BY GEORGE FRAZER.

(By Atlantic Cable, Wireless Overland to the Times.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 17.—The Balkan war has already fulfilled its destiny. This week a great load was lifted from the shoulders of the elder statesmen of Europe. The red terror of a thousand years has been dissipated. The sheik-ul-islam appealed to the jihad, calling upon Ulema and Hadjis to exhort Islam to the "holy war" against all Christians. And now we know he appealed to a bogey.

Muraviev, Palmerston, Metternich, Gorchakov, Honolke and even the "Man of Blood and Iron," Bismarck, were all alike fooled by this glibbing ghost of the Near East. Europe shivered if a whisper suggested that the sheik was shaking out the green folds of the dreaded flag of the jihad. Memories of the horrors of the massacre of Mohammed the murderer begot fabulous phantoms to frighten even the war-calloused chancellors. Because of this always-present fear, the sick man of Europe was propped up and fed with phantoms, his deceptions glozed over, his wickedness winked at; a polite remembrance of the massacre of thousands of Armenians, Macedonians or Albanians, a shrug of the shoulders when he preferred to overlook settlement day. They said to those who raised hands in horror and appeal to Christian crusade: "You must not be too hard on the poor old Sultan. Leave him to his wives and his wickedness—which is merely oriental eccentricity. What if he does kill or torture a few of his Christian subjects? That is not our business. Our business is to keep Islam quiet. We dare not put a hand on the Caliph, commander of the faithful."

Jihad was real. Up to last week the jihad was as real as a dread to Austria, Russia, Germany, France and England as when the Turk was battering at the gates of Vienna or hurrying to harems the fairest and best-bred of the garden lands of Europe. Now we know that the sheik of Galata has been laid. The sheik appealed to a fanatic force which has passed forever from the earth. In Stambul they may still swear "by the beard of the prophet," throughout Islam the Koran is still read, but the jihad has been broken, the sheik and the Caliph have lost the power to war at will upon the Christian children of men.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST "WANT AD" MEDIUM.

The Times takes pride in reprinting the following editorial from the November number of the Mail Order Journal, a recognized authority in all matters connected with newspaper advertising.

The Times is "the great Want Ad Medium" mentioned in the article, and the figures it contains were compiled from the "Liner" section of a recent issue of The Sunday Times:

WORLD OF COMMERCE AND TRADE IN "WANT ADS."
Every Business Man Will Find Opportunity Awaiting Him by Reading Them—Aside from Millions in Transactions They Produce, They Furnish Information, Suggestion, and Even Entertainment.

In the discussion of business economics, little or no attention has been given to the value of the "want ad" to the trade of this nation. Yet, starting as the statement may appear, the aggregate of business transactions in our day is the publication of "want ads" in a single issue of the great "want ad" dailies of a big city probably equals the total of commercial business done in that city on any day fifty years ago. A cursory study of the "want ad" pages of the big dailies will show that the resulting transactions of only one day's issue must total into the millions. In dollars and cents, their value to the business world is incalculable. In information for the merchant, the banker, the wholesaler, the trader, the working man or woman, the farmer, lawyer or doctor, and for every member of the human family, they form a daily encyclopedia whose intrinsic worth is immeasurable.

Education in Every Line.
Education for every man engaged in wealth production lurks in every line. Hope for the despondent unemployed, aid for the harassed business man whose staff is too slight for the duties imposed upon it, opportunities for rise in position or for defeating too strong a competition, enlarging business or preventing its disruption, hammer at the attention between every separating type.

From the business man seeking further chances for aggression, to the art student needing philanthropic aid, every class can find inspiration, suggestion and profit. Heart interest is not lacking. Fiction relieves the mind and one turns to it naturally for relief. Just reading the "want ads" some Sunday, not with a view to finding something you want to buy, or an opportunity to sell, but to see what human features you can discover in them, and you will find a day filled with amusement and yet replete with profit to yourself.

Unexpectedly you will meet with someone's offer of something you have sought for months, or you will find something you had laid aside as useless. Or you will find from some person's description of his or her own abilities that you long have needed just such a person in your employ—or some business firm's call for an assistant will show you that you have mistaken your avocation and better fortune awaits your call.

Patrons Would Fill a City.
The views expressed were awakened in the writer by a casual reading of the "want ad" pages of an issue of one of the great "want ad" media. It was a normal issue, but twenty-three pages of the edition were filled with these curt, pithy announcements. Curiosity impelled the writer to count the advertisements, and they totaled 2233 individual advertising persons or firms' announcements.

Every character of business in which the people of this nation are engaged was represented. The wants were classified under more than ninety headings, while under some of the headings lines of business represented ran into the hundreds.

Millions Offered and Bought.
In the "Business Chances" columns alone, propositions involving millions of dollars were offered. "Partners Wanted" sought or offered capital aggregating several more millions. Real estate offerings were particularly numerous, counting the farms for sale or wanted, and covered practically every State in the Union and many of the leading cities. The enormous business transacted as a result of these real estate advertisements is an index of the vast exchange of money which occurs from the aggregate list. One real estate firm informed the writer that as a result of his Sunday "want ad" he had that same Sunday sold nearly $60,000 worth of property, and another declared that his sales that day were $32,000, with the whole week and the whole future remaining for other transactions. By these two firms alone practically $100,000 of business had been transacted within a few days following the issue of his Sunday "want ad" publication.

In another section, 790 persons, male and female, offered their services, and these comprised a list ranging from men seeking $25,000 a year positions to Japanese or domestics seeking home employment.

DUMPS BILLS INTO STOVE.

Liquor Man's Wealth Is Burned With Waste Paper.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ODDEN (Utah), Nov. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A. L. Kohn of the Kohn Liquor Company, No. 2543 Washington avenue, ascertained yesterday afternoon that a waste basket was a poor place to hide a roll of money. There is where he deposited $1400, all paper money. His hired man mistook it for trash and burned it in a stove.

Several large accounts had been settled by customers. The $1400 consisted mostly of $20 bills. Time came for Mr. Kohn to go out and get his Saturday shave. He put the currency in the basket because he thought that would be the last place a thief would look for anything valuable.

He forgot that the hired man, whose name he refused to divulge, would do his Saturday cleaning up. While the tonorial operation on Mr. Kohn was in progress the industrious hired man did his chores. He swept up the floor, emptied the waste basket and dumped everything inflammable into the stove.

When Mr. Kohn returned the $1400 was in ashes. As he kept no record of the numbers of the bills, his loss is complete.

Balkan War.

Black Sea also took part in the engagement, though details from that point are lacking.

In the afternoon the wind shifted and it seemed for a time as though the battle had ended, but again the booming was heard and the movement of troops could be observed not far from the very gates of the capital. A detachment of several thousand from the Tebalatide lines was replaced by fresh troops who had been held in reserve near the city.

DESERTING THEIR HOMES.
The refugees behind the lines began breaking camp early in the day and moved back toward Constantinople. The Greek villagers, who heretofore had remained admirably indifferent to events, proper to desert their homes. While calm prevailed, there was a deadly tension in the knowledge that the fate of the capital, of the Turkish army, and of those who waited anxiously in Constantinople was at stake.

Several members of the legations and other foreign residents witnessed the artillery duel, which they describe as magnificent. The shells from height to height across Bosphorus, the sea and over the plains towards the north and the flashes of guns on both sides were visible to observers over miles of low country.

Within the city every military precaution was taken. Pickets were posted at various points and patrols guarded the streets. The ambassadors held a meeting at the foreign minister's with the commanders of the Ottoman gendarmes and advised for the safety of foreigners.

WILL LAND MARINES.
It was decided that detachments for the protection of foreign institutions will be landed at dawn tomorrow. They will remain concealed in the buildings and will only be used in the event of a surprise attack. The British only should assistance be required.

The Austrian Ambassador, Marquis de Pallavicini, notified the Porte of the evacuation of his legation. The friendly character of the measures undertaken, explaining that they ended in the evacuation of the legation of foreign subjects and institutions.

The sanitary board at a meeting today urged that steps be taken to prevent the armies now facing each other at Tebalatide from entering the capital, owing to the cholera epidemic. The resolution was that the whole watershed to that effect were proposed by the British delegate.

The three physicians at Derkos trenches are only partly dug. A huge pile of barbed wire is stacked near the endangered northern wing, never having been put to use. The troops for the most part are unable to work because cholera-infected soldiers are keeping watch in the earth works.

GROANING IN THE FIELDS.
Innumerable sick lie groaning in the fields to the rear, some of them in their last agonies. Countless cholera-infected fugitives are struggling on the roads, and it is equally impossible for the Bulgarians to occupy the Turkish position without the aid of the Bulgarian army through cholera.

RAILWAY EXTENSION.
Oregon Short Line to Build at Once From Twin Falls to Wells, Nev., to Connect With S.P. Road.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TWIN FALLS (Idaho), Nov. 17.—The Oregon Short Line will build at once from Twin Falls to Wells, Nev., where it will connect with the Southern Pacific, according to a statement made today by General Manager W. H. Bancroft. With P. H. Knickerbocker, his associate, Mr. Bancroft is here looking over the reports of engineers who have been making the survey to Wells. The extension will touch the mining camp of Contact.

TURKS ESCAPING BULLETS FALL VICTIMS TO PLAGUE.

More Than a Thousand Cases of Cholera Occur Daily in and Around Constantinople and the Death Rate Is Fifty Per Cent.—Patients Without Food, Water or Medical Attention Dropped by Wayside.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 17.—[By indirect route.]—There are more than 1000 cases of cholera daily in and around Constantinople, and the death rate has reached 50 per cent. The authorities are powerless to cope with the situation.

On Thursday last 3000 cholera patients arrived by train at San Stefano. They would have been brought here only for the protests of the railway company and Austrian Ambassador, who asked that they be sent to the lazarettos at Bress and Lamid.

For twenty-four hours the patients remained in the train on a siding at San Stefano without medical attention. They had been dumb animals, discovered by accident that a soldier dying of cholera had been placed among the wounded. He ordered the bearers to drop them, but they refused to do so.

This they did, and the unfortunate were left lying in the mud for an hour, groaning and in convulsions, before they were removed on stretchers.

There appears to be no cord on to prevent fugitives from returning to Constantinople. Several foreign officers who visited the lines Thursday and Friday report the situation hopeless.

AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS ARE TURNED BACK.
(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

SOFLA, Nov. 17.—Nearly 1000 Bulgarian reservists from the United States arrived here yesterday. Their enthusiasm was dampened by the announcement that they would not be permitted to go to the front. Some have already started for their homes in the province.

MAGAZINE EXPLOSION KILLS MANY.
(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

ATHENS, Nov. 17.—The explosion of a Turkish powder magazine at Salonika, did immense execution several days ago. The magazine was close to the cavalry barracks where many Turkish prisoners were confined. Three hundred Turks were killed and 430 wounded.

The Greek authorities have made a careful investigation, and according to dispatches reaching Athens from Salonika, the explosion is believed to have been the work of a Bulgarian band of revolutionaries who were plotting the destruction of their men in the town of Krinika, which the Turks surrounded and bombarded while the Bulgarians were occupying the town.

Additional details have been received in the morning. The explosion of the magazine was at the city of the Greeks of Mt. Athos, at the extremity of the easternmost of the three peninsulas of Chalcidica, Friday.

Early in the morning the squadron under Vice-Admiral Countouriotis, lying at Lemnos, weighed anchor and proceeded to Fort Daphne. A company of bluejackets landed near the customs-house and occupied the government building. The city he left many years ago and again take up the practice of law. It was at first reported that he would not enter into a partnership with any one. Now it appears that his son, Robert, will take up his office with his father.

W. H. TAFT, ATTORNEY.
After Completion of His Term of Office the President Will Practice Law in Cincinnati.

(BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 17.—[Special Dispatch.] President Taft will open a law office in Cincinnati with his son, Robert Taft, in the spring when he leaves the White House.

The President was appointed interior revenue collector at Cincinnati in the early 80's by President Arthur and he has held executive positions a greater part of the time since then. He is said to have determined some time ago to go back to the city he left many years ago and again take up the practice of law. It was at first reported that he would not enter into a partnership with any one. Now it appears that his son, Robert, will take up his office with his father.

WIRE TO THE TIMES.

Nov. 17.—[Exclusive.] Mt. Metrosania,
Black Peak Volcano, Southern
Alaska, is erupting, throwing up a column of smoke and ash about 100 feet high. The light was witnessed by Capt. Jackson of the steamship A. G.
who arrived here at night at 11 o'clock. She brought back 120 fishermen. Capt. Jackson says this trip was the most difficult in his career. The landing was against terrific gales and the water high. Though pushing ahead with all the steam her could furnish she was actually backward as much as 100 feet. With the wind blowing from the north, the steamer was forced to make about 100 miles an hour westward, all aboard with the spectacular eruption of the volcano. The eruption lasted 11 minutes of rain fell there the month prior to November. The September rainfall was 100 inches and two-thirds of the volcanic eruptions of the Alaska coast have had volcanic dust fall to the ground. The eruption has affected climatic conditions, a greatly-increased rainfall.

will earn 3%

The Bank for Everybody

WHEN YOU find yourself with a sum of money for which you will have a use later on we urge you to consider our "Special Savings" Account, which is especially designed to meet the needs of those with temporarily idle funds.

The "Special Savings" Account pays interest at the rate of 3% per annum, computed on the minimum monthly balance, provided it does not fall below $300. Interest begins from the date of the first deposit and is credited on the first day of each month.

The "Special Savings" Account may be checked against without presentation of passbook and under normal conditions may be withdrawn upon demand.

We especially recommend this "Special Savings" Account to the tourist with idle "rest" funds, the business man with money reserved for payment of bills or business expansion, the man or woman with a home building fund—in fact to everybody with idle money that may be required later for permanent investment.

For further particulars regarding the "Special Savings" Account visit our new account window—to the right as you enter the bank on Spring street.

To Correctly Put on the Laced Front Corset

(1) Loosen the laces to full extent without untying the ends.

(2) Take corset in left hand, bring around body with the center of the corset directly in center of the back, clasp corset by looking next to the bottom hook first, then hook up.

(3) Now fasten bottom hook and soft extension.

(4) Pull the corset down where it belongs on the body by holding the vest and pulling down on corset at side front and under arm.

(5) Fasten front supporters well to the inside of the leg. Leave other supporters until later.

(6) Lace corset by commencing on a line with the bottom clasp and lace up, pulling the bottom lace straight out toward the side (so there is no resistance) until you reach the waist line.

(7) Begin at top same as bottom and lace down, pulling top lace to the waist line. Pull both laces together gently, hold with one hand and with the other gently lift up the vest under laces to make it lie smoothly.

(8) Tie the laces and bring them into bust of corset.

(9) Fasten supporters to pull straight and sit down and adjust bust string. This should always be done last.

(10) When properly laced the corset should show about one inch of lacing space at the bottom of the clasp and an inch and a quarter at the top.

Economical, Clean and Durable Floor Coverings

For all year use are found in the CREX line. There are runners for halls and stairs, carpets for unvarnished floors and rugs for every use.

Being made of scientifically cultivated wire-grass, which is impervious to dirt and dust and being a non-conductor of heat or cold, CREX coverings cannot be equalled for natural beauty, cheerfulness, durability and practical economy—in winter as well as in summer homes.

CREX
Grass Carpets and Rugs

Most carpet and furniture dealers carry the CREX line. Go to your dealer and make a careful inspection. Note the modest patterns and colorings—of which you will never tire. Examine the weave, which you will find is porous—yet substantial—therefore permits the dust to sift through instead of holding, as do woolen and cotton coverings. The task of keeping your rooms in clean, sanitary condition is cut to the minimum.

There are other grass coverings, however, that resemble in appearance CREX—but they do not possess the quality or durability of the "Original Wire-Grass Floor Covering."

Here I Come Again With Welcome Tidings for Xmas Shoppers

I know you don't want to send commonplace gifts this year and you are seeking something unusual, attractive, yet useful. As Holiday gifts there is nothing more appropriate than the

that I have brought here this year. They are new creations, right fresh from their birthplace. Read the following, and visit the Yamato.

Bamboo Baskets

20% Off. This week only. To introduce new baskets and to accommodate early shoppers before we become busier, we make the 20% discount. To see complete variety before it gets short very soon and to have baskets packed more carefully, you come down during this week and save money. This discount applies to all Bamboo Baskets except 75c and $1.25 Fruit Baskets with a silk tassel free.

BRASS BASKETS—Oxidized dark mahogany; just like real bamboo ones, only finer and stronger; hand-etched with finest workmanship. Fruit and flower baskets, smoking sets, etc., at the most reasonable prices. Latest creation and ideal gifts for this Christmas.

Japanese Padded Jackets

Comfortable and serviceable; carefully padded; light but warm; never more appropriate than in this season.

Jackets . . $4.45 and Up
Robes . . $9.45 and Up

OUR KIMONO DEPARTMENT is the largest and most complete in the West, including kimono and opera coats in all descriptions. The best talents of Japanese designers and embroiderers are displayed to the fullest extent in our garments. Come and inspect our stock.

Japanese Novelties

Made of silk crepe in all colors, in different cute shapes; hand-painted in water colors. Will make very pleasing gifts.

This image shows a dark, textured vertical strip, likely a book cover or endpaper. The material has a grainy, wood-like texture with varying shades of dark gray and black. There are visible signs of wear, including scratches, scuffs, and some lighter-colored areas that suggest damage or discoloration over time. The overall appearance is aged and worn.

The Case of Mrs. Kirlin.
Cleveland, Ohio.—"I can truthfully good during Change of Life as Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I had taken one half a bottle I began to feel better, and I have resumed taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If men would take it they would avoid pain and misery at this time."

—Mrs. ALICE KIRLEN, 368 W. L. Circleville, Ohio.

Change of Life is one of the most difficult periods of a woman's existence. At times women may rely upon Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SALOME VERSUS THE MINISTER.

THING DENUNCIATION OF OPERA FROM PULPIT.

Congregation Hears Arrangement of Production and Oscar Wilde by Pastor of Temple Baptist Church. Denounces Prohibiting Like Productions Proposed.

In a sermon before one of the largest and most fashionable congregations of the city, Dr. James Whitcomb Brounager, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, last night verbally scolded the recent operatic interpretation here of the biblical story of Salome.

Declaring that a law should be enacted here—as in Boston—to prevent numerous theatrical productions, the minister read a draft of such a law for consideration by the authorities and possible adoption as an ordinance. It is as follows:

"If at any time, under a license granted hereunder there shall be given theatrical exhibition, public show, public amusement or exhibition, any part of which, in the opinion of the Mayor and the Police Commission, is sacrilegious or immoral or tends to interfere with the morals of the community and is not eliminated at the request of the Mayor, then he may suspend the license of such representation."

"Personally, I believe a clean, moral, bright city, with ideals such as Los Angeles has ought to have a law passed expressing performances which appeal to a certain class of individuals who seek gratification of unwholesome passions by such scenes in theatrical productions," said the minister.

Playing Oscar Wilde, author of the piece, Dr. Brounager continued: "The modern Salome grew out of the genius of one of the lowest and vilest characters the world has ever produced—Oscar Wilde. It is beyond conception how intelligent, clean, decent, upright lovers of true art would consent to even consider the product that had its origin in a corrupt mind and whose morality is so doubtful."

"It is not astonishing that this scene is revolting. The company and circumstances would naturally lead to a character absolutely impure and degrading. This is one of the greatest objections to the modern dance. The style of dress is frequently suggestive. The close proximity of the dancers is not conducive of the highest, holiest, purest thoughts. Taken from every angle of vision the dance of Salome and all kindred dances appeal abominably to the lower passions."

"No wonder Salome was willing to dance virtually naked before a corrupt king and his rotten attendants. Her mother, Herodias, married Philip I, her uncle, only to desert him and elope with Herod Antipas, another uncle. She was living in bignamy. Her immorality has been a stain in the history of all ages."

NEGRO HIGHWAYMAN.
Two Cartwright, who lives Tenth and Hope streets, was the victim of a game footpad at Third street and Stephenson avenue at a late hour Saturday night, according to a story he related to Central Station detectives yesterday. He was robbed of $9.75 and a bank book issued by the American National Bank. Cartwright described the highwayman as being about 35 years old, five feet five inches tall, 160 pounds in weight, and dressed in a light coat and a dark pair of pants. After robbing Cartwright the negro ran west on Stephenson avenue.

to speak, follow one's nose till one gets there. It is not necessary, according to Mrs. Mitchell, to have traveled over the road before. Given an objective point one merely starts out and goes there, obeying the hunches which come from time to time.

A second article in the philosophy of Mrs. Mitchell is that the natural mind singles out without effort, and she has nothing new to think of from getting into difficulties along the way. She is a strong believer in the universal goodness of people and says she has never yet had occasion to revise that belief.

A third part theory which she is demonstrating is what she calls the continuity of mechanical action. She holds that all such activity, if properly sustained, shortly becomes a habit and can therefore be maintained without fatigue for any desired length of time, provided the mind does not get tired. In support of this idea she declares that the only time she grew weary on her long walk was in crossing the prairie, where the monotony of the landscape gave her nothing new to think about for hours at a stretch. Her mind, she says, got tired of the unending vista of plain out-doors and the fatigue was promptly communicated to her muscles.

A fourth, and to women, perhaps the most interesting, of Mrs. Mitchell's ideas is that the proper shoes for walking are the high-heeled variety. The ones which she has worn from ocean to ocean are made of heavy leather and with thick soles, but shaped on a fashionable last and are, at a glance, identical in appearance with those of a Broadway shopper.

The other articles of her walking costume consist of a two-piece black suit with a coat to match and a modish, if dusty, hat perched atop. She started on her journey with a grip but has long since discarded it in favor of the "backpack," which she carries along over her shoulder. She is tall, but not of noticeably muscular build, and walks with an easy, swinging movement, planting the ball of the foot first at each step.

In line with her belief that the world at large is a good world, Mrs. Mitchell says that a woman is as safe on the lonely country roads as anywhere else. She has never been subjected to the smallest annoyance on her transcontinental journey, she says.

BIKE SPEEDER JAILED.

Recent Orders of Chief Catch Four Offenders Who Feel the First Severe Touch of Law.

Cleodion Molan, an Italian, No. 1234 1/2 South Figueroa street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Motorcycle Officer Hollowell while making forty miles an hour on his tandem motorcycle along South Figueroa between Washington and Pico streets. Louis Rapellin, a machinist, was on the rear seat. Molan was locked up at the Central Station until he could furnish $25 cash bail for his appearance in the Police Court this morning.

Recently ordered by Chief Catch Four to arrest and place in jail, unless they could immediately give a cash bail, all motorcycle speeders caught making more than thirty miles an hour anywhere within the incorporated limits. The order was issued in the hope that it would have a deterrent effect upon men and boys who persist in traveling at an excessive and dangerous rate on their machines through the city.

The following motorcycle riders were booked at the Central Station Saturday afternoon and yesterday for speeding: Ram Lanswick on Sev. 10th street and Ed Brandenburg on Alvarado street.

tives. It is no less certain that the Board of Public Utilities will emphatically refuse to consider any rate over 60 cents, as the figures available appear to show that the company's demands are excessive.

Even the 60-cent rate is considerably higher than will be ultimately justified, in the opinion of city officials, inasmuch as some of the items of delivery cost are at present too large and ought to be reduced later on. If these items could be regulated promptly 50-cent gas would be assured at once, but legal difficulties seem to prevent this.

While the decision of the State Railroad Commission has not yet been promulgated officials of the gas companies are confident that a transportation allowance of 18 cents will be made. They admit themselves that this ought to be reduced, but say they are unable to accomplish it. One of the items which make up the 18 cents is an 8-cent charge to land owners.

The Board of Public Utilities last year allowed 41 cents for city distribution and 4 cents for depreciation of plant and equipment. The gas companies contend that it costs just as much to distribute natural as artificial gas and will object to any reduction of this item. Nothing will be taken for granted by the board, however, and it is possible that they may feel justified in fixing a lower distribution rate.

SIXTY CENTS LIKELY.
There seems to be little conflict of opinion between public officials and gas men as to what the rate ought to be ultimately. Both agree that the transportation charges ought to be 10 to 12 cents and the distribution in the neighborhood of 30 cents. The gas companies assert that such a reduction would mean a loss of $12,000,000. In any event the new rate cannot be more than 60 cents and judging from figures available it cannot be less than 50 cents.

THREE LABORERS BURNED.
Explosion of Oil Waste Under Boiler Boiled Over Three Armenians—Other Accidents.

Three Armenian laborers employed at plant No. 7 of the Acme Cement Plant Company, No. 750 South Alameda street, were severely burned about the face, hands and legs late yesterday afternoon when an accumulation of oil in one of the fireboxes under a boiler exploded.

The accident occurred when the trio began an investigation of the cause, the fluid was ignited. The long tongues of flame that shot out through the furnace doors completely enveloped them. The men were treated at the Receiving Hospital.

They live at Bay and Mateo streets. Four unidentified men were responsible for three other patients treated yesterday at the hospital.

Manuel Vasquez, 28 years old, No. 1114 1/2 East First street, had a fight at Ducommun and Alameda streets and was cut on the forearm, left wrist and back.

Gerardo Armijo, 54 years old, a common farmer, said he was assaulted by two men he did not know at South Alameda street. He was struck several times back of the right ear, almost losing that member.

A scalp laceration on the back of the head, a confused jaw and an abrasion of the left ear were sustained by Fred Curtright, 35 years old, No. 854 South Hope street, when assaulted on the east side of town.

MOTHER YEARS FOR HER.
A mother who is thought to be dying in her home at San Diego expressed a wish to see her one surviving daughter before she passes away, and the police authorities of that city have invoked the assistance of the Los Angeles police in an effort to find the girl. She is Mrs. Beattie Young and her missing daughter is Warren. She is described as being 25 years old, five feet five inches tall, weight about 140 pounds, medium brown hair, blue gray eyes and of light complexion. Mrs. Young has been heard of by her mother in four years. Six weeks ago her sister died. The check was so severe to the mother, coupled with the disappearance of the other child, that it is now feared she will not survive many days.

Thirty Years' War.

African race in the city then; less than half a dozen in fact, and they all lived alone. The Calle de Negroes to which the white arches and even the grown-ups resorted now and then in a spirit of adventure or in education.

On November 3, 1887, the city attempted to condemn the strip for a regular street, a continuation of what is now known as Los Angeles street. Condemnation proceedings were brought against Mrs. Bigelow, who finally agreed to settle for $12,000. This sum, it is said, the city never gave and Mrs. Bigelow in her turn saved the struggling municipality.

ODD HISTORY.

Summer and winter contributed their quota to the history of their day, and finally the case reached the Supreme Court. However, before the case was decided, the City Council turned over in its sleep and by ordinance declared the street opened.

Mrs. Newmark brought injunction proceedings against the city, but abandoned the strip it had no right to take away or disturb the peaceful right to pass and repass over the private property of the city.

Mrs. Newmark was ordered to abandon her "wilding plans, which accounts for a one-story-looking brick wall which stands today apparently in the middle of Los Angeles street, just south of the Plaza, and which provides a grateful shade for Mexicans, Chinese, and a shelter in time of need or other.

It was ten years after the initial proceedings were begun before the matter was thus effectively enmeshed in legal red tape, and then on February 11, 1897, Pierre and Juan Larroche added to the gale of confusion in this part of the State. He intended to take up his permanent residence in Southern California.

F. E. Vickers of San Francisco, chief engineer for the Edison Electric Company, is stopping at the Hotel Hayward, Mr. J. Shearer and Edward Smith, two Kansas City business men who are said to be here with the intention of investing quite largely in real estate, registered at this hotel yesterday. Another arrival was J. C. Reilly of Reno, a mining man, C. R. Keith of Chicago is here on a business trip.

Dr. and Mrs. F. T. McFadden of Richmond, Va., in the city for a visit with friends, are among the recent arrivals at the Lankershim. Raymond Wayman is staying at the hotel, after motoring from Fairbrook, Cal. J. L. Brush of Denver, former Lieutenant-Governor of Colorado, is another guest. Hon. J. E. Richards, former Governor of Montana and now a resident of Berkeley, arrived Saturday night.

TO TALL TIMBERS.
The parties at interest ejaculated the Spanish equivalent for "guys that will hold 'em for awhile," and rested on their laurels until the courts got ready for the next move, but the tall and uncouth timber was inviting in statu quo ever since, which is a lawyer's way of saying "nothing doing."

Years rolled by; gifted youth gave way to old age, and old age succumbed to the grim Reaper—which brings us down to the twentieth century and city ordinance No. 19438, new series, an ordinance which changes the name of Los Angeles street to San Pedro street, east of the triangular strip from Ferguson Alley to Arcadia street, and embracing the old Calle de Negroes, now a part of

Chinatown. The present contenders still claim that while a right to pass and remain exists under the old decision of the Supreme Court, the title of the property remains in fee simple in the Bigelow, Ballerino and other estates involved.

Thus it falls out that after another four-measure rest, and in this day and year of our Lord, 1912, the battle is again inserted into the legal, and another era of litigation is begun.

It is now proposed to condemn enough of the property to open San Pedro street from Aliso street to the Plaza, and then abandon back that part of the property not involved in the condemnation, a strip averaging 200 feet in length from Arcadia street to the proposed new street line of San Pedro street, including several old brick buildings, among them the famous Hotel de Gap, which stands like a sentinel to bar the further progress of San Pedro street at Aliso.

Many of the original owners have gone presumably to a land where property lines are of no more consequence than a last month's commutation book, but their heirs, executors and assigns are still actively on the job and insist that neither get the better of either and that each gets what is coming to him. On the other hand the growth of the city and the undesirable conditions arising from the private ownership of what is to all intents and purposes a public street seems to demand an early solution of the problem, the bettering of the business and the rebuilding of the district along modern and sanitary lines.

ST. VINCENT'S CELEBRATES IN ANNIVERSARY SERVICE.

Twenty-five Years Has Local Catholic Parish Prospered in the Doing of Good and in Advancing the Faith of the Roman Church. Bishop Conaty's Fine Sermon.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of St. Vincent's Catholic Church was celebrated yesterday, the sermon being preached by Bishop Conaty to a large congregation.

The Bishop took occasion to review the history of the parish since its establishment and to congratulate the pastor and the people upon the completion of so long a term of faithful service.

St. Vincent's has come to be one of the strongest parishes in the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, and the edifice at Washington street and Grand avenue, under the pastorate of Rev. Dr. J. R. Glass, is a center of church activity.

Bishop Conaty took his text from the 11th Psalm, 12-13: "What shall I render to the Lord for all the things He has rendered to me. I will take the chalice of salvation and I will call upon the name of the Lord."

The Bishop commented upon the fact that "Twenty-five years of fidelity to the word which it was commanded to preach; twenty-five years of fidelity to the administration of the sacraments confided to its care; twenty-five years in the upbuilding of Christian lives; always true to its purpose; always a helper of human kind, is the mission to which St. Vincent's Church has been faithful."

The Bishop finds in the wonderful advancement of the Roman Catholic Church through all of its persecutions, trials and conflicts, in itself one of the most astonishing facts in history, the great evil of the day, he said, is indifference to God; not so much in his faith as in the negligence of service to Him.

"The power of human government," he said, "will never make people moral or keep them good. We need the grace of God, the truth of Jesus Christ; we need His church, which is His agent, dispenser His mercy."

"The twenty-fifth anniversary of this church should be marked not only as an epoch day in its life, but it should be an epoch day in the lives of the Catholics, who are proud of the all to divine faith and proud of the church which has taught them its meaning and bestowed the graces of faith upon them."

"The one thought that should actuate us all should be to do as we are and that the kingdom of God may come into the lives of men and that all things may be restored in Christ." "An added inspiration to you, people of St. Vincent's, should come from the great apostle of charity, your sainted guardian and protector, the great St. Vincent de Paul. May his spirit watch over you, and on this feast-day may he, in a particular manner, obtain for each one of you the grace of love for Jesus Christ, devotion and loyalty to the church and determination to be good and faithful followers of St. Vincent de Paul."

School Cafeteria Proves to Be Financial Success

The Board of Public Works has committed to the Salt Lake Railway contract for building a spur track to the city between the Salt Lake line and the municipal dock. If contract is not signed by December 1 it will be given to the Pacific Electric.

As compared with the prices prevalent on lands in the neighborhood even years ago, the percentage of increase in value has been really as large as that made in Anaheim. Mr. Brett, who is a retired banker, will take his home on the property acquired on West Center street and will improve the spacious grounds and the buildings. CITY CHARTER MAY BE VOID.

Phoenix Has Trouble With New Basic Law.

Santa Fe Is Fighting the Three-Cent Fare Act.

State Forbids Hanging of a Federal Prisoner.

(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 15.—It is rumored that the new Phoenix city charter, whereby a commission form of government is sought to be established, will not be approved by Gov. Hunt, acting upon the advice of Atty. Gen. Bullard. The charter is said to be based upon a similar document in Oklahoma, which has stood against all legal assaults. But different conditions were created in Arizona by a different constitution. It is said one of the objections to the charter is that it arrogates control by the city over public service corporations, something which is restricted by the State Constitution to the State Corporation Commission. A Covina, Cal., case also is said to exist in the paragraph concerning this recall of public officials.

THE RETURNING BOARD.

According to several lawyers, there is a possibility that the election chosen this month to cast Arizona's first vote for President will not be able to perform that duty, owing to the absence of a legal returning board within the State. Such a returning board has been provided, but the presence upon it of officers who might have to pass upon the legality of their own election has already been the cause of a court decision declaring the board an unconstitutional one. The board, according to law, shall consist of the Governor, Secretary of State and Chief Justice. This situation may be the cause of calling the Arizona Legislature in special session a bit earlier than had been expected to cure the defect.

THREE-CENT FARE.

The appeal of the Santa Fe Railroad system against the enforcement of 3-cent fare bill favorably passed upon by referendum at the last election contains an exhaustive statement of business done by the system within Arizona. It is shown that during the past fiscal year the purely State passenger business brought the railroad a revenue of $232,016, from 127,287 passengers. The purely State freight business brought a revenue of $44,120, compared with $1,050,813 from interstate business. The actual cost of carrying the passengers is claimed to have been $213,000. The total expense of operation was $1,040,577, of which nearly $1,000,000 was chargeable to interstate traffic. The tabulation gave Arizona a population of ninety-seven individuals to the railway mile and California 344. The yearly earnings per mile in Arizona are put down as $439 and in California as $2184. Another interesting feature is the statement that the company has 556 miles of railroad within Arizona, bonded for $32,045,915, an indebtedness noted in complaint as "conservative." The 3-cent bill is described as having been arbitrarily and capriciously passed by the Legislature, and it is alleged is of necessity void, inasmuch as the rate-making power has been vested by the Constitution in the Corporation Commission.

RAILWAY EXPENSES.

The Corporation Commission has just called upon the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and El Paso & Southwestern railroad companies to file in the commission office statements showing operating expenses in Arizona, chargeable to through and to local business. This action appears to have been taken in order to prepare the commission to the event the 3-cent fare bill should be declared unconstitutional. It is expected there will be something of an argument between the commission and the railroads concerning the proportion of the operating expenses properly chargeable to the business originating in Arizona.

SUITS DISMISSED.

In the United States court a number of civil cases against Frederick A. Hyde and John A. Benson have been dismissed. These actions had been in behalf of the government, to set aside certain patents alleged to have been secured by the defendants through fraud. The defendants are the same who were convicted, last year, of timber land frauds in Northern California.

NO HANGING AT FLORENCE.

The State government not only is antagonistic to the infliction of the death penalty upon criminals convicted of murder in the State of Arizona, but will have no hand in the execution of death sentences from Federal courts. Last month a sentence of death in the case of James R. Goodwin, convicted in Phoenix of murder upon an Indian reservation, was confirmed to the United States Court of Appeals at San Francisco. Goodwin is now held in the State Penitentiary at Florence. The board of control has just notified United States Marshal Overlock that it feels under no obligations to permit the execution of the prison and upon the reform system lately inaugurated by the Governor. Goodwin's crime was brutal murder, for robbery, of two young men who had sought the hospitality of his cabin in the mountains.

FT. GRANT RESERVATION.

A report of the State Land Commission has been filed with the Governor concerning a 1000-acre plot on the Ft. Grant reservation, lately donated by Congress to the State as a site for the State Industrial School. The property has been estimated as worth about $125,000 and it is thought the school could be established at an expense to the State of about $15,000. Though the land is about fifty-five buildings at the old post are considered in fair shape, expensive changes and repairs, and the supply of water has been piped to the post from the mountains and a large tract of land could be utilized in farming in the near vicinity.

LITTLE POWER SOLD.

The Salt River Valley Water Users' Association now has $600 horsepower available, but is selling less than 1000-horsepower units of the plant at Roosevelt being in operation. About February 1 still more power will be available on the new Crocker-Carmichael within eighteen months will be completed works opposite Tempe that will generate at least 6000 horsepower. A few days ago formal acceptance was made of a new power plant on the South Side, with normal capacity of 5000 horsepower, though the actual capacity is 35 per cent greater. This plant cost to install $45 per normal horsepower.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Today at the Phoenix Board of Trade new life was given the Arizona Historical and Archaeological Society, formed in this city about a year ago, with Thomas Armstrong, Jr., as president. The organization of the society is to be continued upon a State-wide basis and collections received are to be held in trust until such time as State aid and direction shall have been given the society. As the basis of a museum will be purchased the collection of the late Dr. J. Miller, one of the most complete extant, thoroughly covering the ancient civilization of Arizona.

An Arizona Poultry Association has been formed in Phoenix and will affiliate with the National Poultry Association. It is proposed to hold a poultry show during January of each year.

RAID IN COVINA.

Several Men Arrested and Gambling Paraphernalia Seized by County Detectives in Small Town. The county of Los Angeles is the richer since yesterday afternoon by one gambling table and a liberal supply of cards and chips as the result of a raid on an alleged gambling joint in Covina. County Detectives Louis Duni and several officers acting under the direction of Deputy Dist. Atty. Keetch, were prominently present during the exercise. William Clark, the alleged proprietor, was taken into custody along with the paraphernalia. The players were not arrested.

Before leaving Covina the raiders picked up William Champion and Carl Asher who are also charged with violation of the anti-gambling law. The prisoners will be arraigned by Justice Northrup in his Alhambra court at 2 o'clock today. The raid is the result of numerous complaints received by the District Attorney's office from Covina and was accomplished with neatness and dispatch.

JEERUSALEM NEW CAPITAL.

Prophet Daniel Predicted Overthrow of Turk and Europe's Refusal to Help Him, Says Lecturer. There will be no general war in Europe despite the black aspect of the Balkan conflagration, but the Turk will be driven out of Constantinople and will establish his capital in Jerusalem, once the holy city of Christendom; for low, hath not the prophet Daniel predicted it. "And he (the Turk) shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him," is the scripture from Daniel, 11, which E. E. Hobbcock, lecturer in a lecture on the Balkan War in Blanchard Hall last night, indicated would become of the Turk. "Jerusalem, lying between the Red and the Mediterranean seas, is the glorious holy mountain," he declared, and will establish his capital in Jerusalem, once the holy city of Christendom; for low, hath not the prophet Daniel predicted it.

"The present war between Turkey and the allied powers of the Balkan States seems to be the prelude of the departure of the Turk from Europe, and so far as we can see, the powers of Europe that have till now maintained the existence of the Ottoman Empire in European territory have withdrawn this help; and so far as Turkey's existence as a European power, it seems as if it were the soon to her end. The prophet Daniel, in holy vision, saw the departure of the Turkish power from European territory, and eventually the location of the seat of his empire in Jerusalem.

New Era's Dawn.

ALL SOUTHLAND'S ITALY TOASTS DOVE OF PEACE.

NO LESS enthusiastic in commemorating the triumphs of peace than the victors of war, sons of Italy from all Southland California gathered last night for a banquet at the Cafe Martin to celebrate the amity recently returned to their fatherland after its conflict with Turkey for the possession of Tripoli.

The gathering was made up of Italian-American residents of the city and at once notified Consul Pluma, who issued the call that brought the celebrants together last night.

Suspended over the speakers' table were the Italian and American flags, but although Turkey was treated as a guest of honor, the evening was a gala for the star and crescent were nowhere to be seen. It was expected that G. Strugo, born in Constantinople of Turkish descent, would be the present as a semi-official representative of his nation; but he was unable to attend. Strugo early became famous with the Italian language and has been received into the innermost councils of Victor Emmanuel's people in Los Angeles.

Patriotic feeling ran high, and the speeches evoked unstinted applause. E. Paggi presided as toastmaster, and the speaker of the evening was Rev. Giuseppe Tonello. It was natural and fitting that the prayer should have an-

HUMBLING OF MOHAMMEDANS.

Remarkable Side Lights on War in Balkans.

Pastor Explains It from His Personal Experience.

Among Greatest Events in World's History.

The underlying religious causes of the war in the Balkans and the tremendous and far-reaching effects which the humbling of Islam will have on future world history formed the subject matter of a remarkable sermon by Dr. C. M. Carter at the First Baptist Church last evening. The pastor spoke from his fund of personal experience, acquired by long study of Mohammedanism and other religions, and of the conditions in Turkey. The latter he observed on the ground. His discourse was, in part, as follows:

"The war between Turkey and the Balkan States is one of the most momentous in its world-wide significance of any war in the history of the world. And this not because the fact only that it has been one of the briefest on record, not because more than 100,000 men have been killed inside of the shortest time, not because of the fact that war has been fought and the newspapers of the world kept blind to its operations, not because for the first time the aeroplane has been used as the guiding light of armies, not because a great nation has been humbled, but because of that which is of greater significance than the humbling of a great religion, which practically means one of the greatest religions in the world, has been humbled in the world's history.

The immediate causes of this war have been, first, the desire of the Balkan States to divide up Turkey among themselves. Again, the desire of these States to wreak vengeance upon Turkey for centuries of oppression. And, lastly, the wrath of the people because of the ceaseless persecution of their fellow Christians in Turkey. And, not least, the ambition of the Greek Church to repossess once more its ancient capital, Constantinople. As long as St. Sophia remains a Mohammedan mosque instead of a Christian church, the Greek Church will never be permanent peace could not hope to be.

"But the cause of all that underlies all that dominates all, lies back hundreds of years. The year 571 A.D. saw the birth of Mohammed. He was born in Mecca, a son of a noble ancestry. From his mother, Aminah, he inherited a highly wrought nervous temperament, and a religious nature. Mohammed heard much of Judaism and Christianity. At this time Arabia was wholly given up to pagan idolatry. Mohammed conceived the idea that he had a divine call to lead his country into a higher religion, and he began to preach the fundamental principle of his religion. There is no God but God, and Mohammed is His prophet. This religion is the most perfect form of the union of church and state in the world, as the head of the State is the head of the religion. Hence the significance of the defeat of the Sultan of Turkey, who is the head of the Mohammedan religion.

"And what do we mean by the Balkan States? From the fifth to the tenth century there was a contest in the Christian Church between the division of the Roman Catholic church in the west with its headquarters at Rome and the Greek Catholic church in the east, with its seat at Constantinople. The long centuries of strife resulting in this division created a bitter hostility between the two sects. It was the Greek church that was dispossessed of its capital by the Mohammedans. The Greek church today is composed of the Balkan States, speaking broadly, and Russia. It is the Mohammedans of the Greek Catholic against the Mohammedans that has been one of the ultimate causes of the present conflict that has resulted in the humbling of the Moslems.

"Why the sympathies of Europe that have resulted in the present conflict? In the first place, the Triple Alliance, which consists of Italy, Germany and Austria, is opposed to the dispossessing of the Mohammedans. The Germans have great commercial interests in Turkey that must be safeguarded. The Austrians have long possessed Constantinople and Turkish territory. But deeper than business and politics are the jealousies, the outgrowth of centuries, between the Roman Catholics of Austria and Italy.

"No greater sentiment for foreign missions has the world ever had. This sentiment has been the cause of the members of the church of Christ, but it is of momentous significance to every citizen of this country, and every citizen of the world.

PLAN PROVES POPULAR.

South Pasadena's Proposition to Establish Lighted Way is Being Eagerly Supported by All Sections. SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 17.—Carrying out the original plan of connecting Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra with Lighted Ways, a petition in the hands of Arthur Noble and R. Davis of Pasadena is being circulated along Los Robles avenue from Colorado street in Pasadena to the intersection of Huntington drive, where a junction will be made with the South Pasadena and Alhambra system. This committee reports that nearly a majority of the property holders on the Los Robles avenue north of Colorado street are in favor of the plan, and they now object to paying for the installation of others.

and the Greek Catholics of the Balkan States. The Triple Alliance consists of Great Britain, France and Russia, and naturally sympathizes with the enemies of Turkey. Russia because of her Greek Catholic religion; France, perfectly indifferent to religion, but in alliance with Russia; England, though Protestant, is forced to give Turkey moral support for fear of an uprising of her millions of Moslem subjects in India. Such a conflict of politics, commercialism and religion has never been in the history of the world. The humbling of Islam is a historic day is beyond ordinary comprehension, first, because it has been one of the briefest on record, and second, because of its influence upon the religious conditions of Europe.

"The question naturally arises: Why is it that the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente are all agreed that the Turkish interests must be left in control of Constantinople? But a glance at the map will show the reason. In the first place, more than one of the great powers of Europe looks with longing eyes to Constantinople as its own possession. For over 100 years the Russians have sought to secure it as their southern capital. It dominates the Bosporus, the commercial highway to the Black Sea, with its boundless commerce with the region bordering upon it, and the Far East. To turn it over to the Bulgarians would be to put it in the hands of an ambitious ruler who would be the head of the eastern commerce at his mercy. But the remnant of the Turks can hold it and be able only to be the bidding of the strong nations of Europe.

"What are the significant results of the present war? It shows the inherent weakness of the Turk has been demonstrated. He has lost his fanatical and religious zeal. No longer are the teachings of Mohammed and the precepts of the Koran sufficient to inspire him to the deeds of his fathers. What this means to the missionary propaganda of Christianity has hardly dawned upon us. For the first time since the sixth century Islam has been helpless before the might of its Christian conquerors, and apparently the Crescent lies in the dust, while the Cross floats triumphant.

Up until five years ago for a Moslem to profess conversion to Christianity in Moslem countries was meant death. This can happen no more. The way of the cross has suddenly been made clear. This terrible defeat of the Sultan of Turkey means the humbling of the head of Islam. Not only through European Turkey but through Asia Minor, through Arabia, through Persia, down into Mohammedan India; and, again, through Egypt and into the heart of Africa the tidings are flying: Islam is defeated. Its head is falling from its neck.

"It has been centuries since as momentous an event has occurred in the history of the world, with such ramifications in every direction—commercial, political and, more than all, religious. The defeat of the Sultan of Turkey has caused the quick defeat of the Turkish army. Military men will say that it was lack of efficient administration of the command, and the lack of political shrewdness manifested by the Sultan. But the one with a larger vision than military craft or political shrewdness will say that the cause was the influence of Christianity that has been silently permeating the whole Turkish land, until at last the leaders of Christianity have leaped the whole lump. Not lack of military wisdom, not a poor commander, but the influence of Christianity that has been silently permeating the whole Turkish land, until at last the leaders of Christianity have leaped the whole lump. Not lack of military wisdom, not a poor commander, but the influence of Christianity that has been silently permeating the whole Turkish land, until at last the leaders of Christianity have leaped the whole lump.

Wednesday evening, November 27, at the South Pasadena High School, will occur the first league debate of the season. The contesting schools are the Los Angeles High and the South Pasadena High. The question to be debated is "Resolved, That suffrage should be restricted by an educational qualification." This city will take the affirmative side of the question and will be represented by Ward Fowler and B. C. Kiesel. The South Pasadena school ranked second in the Southern California League last season, and are determined to make a better showing for the championship this year.

Petitions protesting against the assessment for the paving of Mission street and Pasadena avenue are being submitted and signed by property owners abutting on the streets affected. They claim the cost of the engineering work, which was set at $4000, was much too high considering the amount of work to be done. They want to get the cost reduced, and a better accounting of the cost of laying curbing at portions of the street where there was none has been submitted. They assert, in fact, since each owner having curbing already in had paid for it, it is only fair that they now object to paying for the installation of others.

ATTENDANCE DOUBLES.

People's Orchestra Accorded Heartily Applause for Excellent Musical Numbers.

The second concert of the People's Orchestra, held yesterday afternoon in Temple Auditorium, drew double the attendance of the preceding Sunday, indicating growing interest on the part of the public. The excellent programme was rendered by the new orchestra with increased confidence, and recognition of its work was heartily accorded. The five lengthy numbers constituting the programme afforded variety, but the management announces the intention of providing more popular selections as soon as the music can be procured.

Besides Beethoven's "Prometheus" and Rossini's "Stanzonia-La Gazza Ladra," the orchestra played Mason's overture in F minor, and the composer, Prof. F. Mason, was called upon to respond to repeated plaudits. Both soloists, Miss Gertrude Cohen in Saint-Saens' Second Concerto for piano and orchestra, and Fred G. Ellis in the Prologue of L'Allegretto, proved themselves worthy interpreters of their selections and entertainers of a cultivated audience.

The subjoined list of the orchestral membership is suggestive of an ensemble gathering crowded houses for the season: Eduardo Lebogott, con-

Don't Admit Light-Decayed Beer Into Your House

You must drink beer not only made pure, but kept pure.

Purity exceeds all other costs in our brewery. We even filter the air in which Schlitz is cooled. We scald every tub, keg and barrel, every pipe and pump, every time we use it.

Then, instead of putting pure beer in light glass bottles we use Brown Bottles.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

We began in a hut, sixty years ago. Today our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year.
More and more people each year are drinking Schlitz.

Why don't you, too, drink only pure beer—Schlitz in Brown Bottles.

The act extending from Pasadena avenue along Avenue 64 and through the Annandale section will unquestionably be ready for an election in a

In the Baird road section plans are under way for the actual commencing ber of side streets will also be lighted, and as the election has already carwill begin in a few weeks.

Fifty Thousand Men To
Strange Silence that Bod

[BY CABLE AND A]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Any idea that Turkish government may have had of benefiting by continuing the war must be shattered by the news of the fall of Monastir. In the capture of that important city the Servians took three thousand men, 50,000 men and forty guns, thus achieving the great individual success of the war. Monastir was the second city of importance in European Turkey. It was Turkey's stronghold in Macedonia and by its downfall Macedonia passed completely out of Turkish hands. What part the Greeks played in the capture has not been ascertained. It is known that the Greek army was moving to the assistance of the Servians and it is supposed the Greeks were able to cut off the Turkish retreat to the south.

The Servians naturally will be glad at this victory, which cuts off the capture of Salonika and must have a great moral effect on the future course of the war.

STRANGE SILENCE.

Another of the strange silences that have been characteristic of this war appears to have fallen over Constantinople, from which only brief glimpses have been received, telling of the confusion of the Tehtai-istat, and a fresh personal appeal to the European sovereigns to intervene for the termination of the war. Quite as surprising as the silence is the appeal as of the previous week, when the appeal was made by the powers of the world to the Turkish government to cease the war. Turkey must, undoubtedly, be the cause of the war.
